

Adam's blend of vision and collaboration turned my play BURN into a beautiful piece of theatre. In a world where young directors tend to overcomplicate a piece, Adam used the script and his great imagination to open up the world of the play, while maintaining it's integrity. I am indebted to him for taking a good script and making it great.

-- CREIGHTON JAMES, Playwright, BURN - 2007